

EVERYONE WHO USES the Internet knows that a treasure trove lies at their fingertips, right there on their clicking mouse - but nobody knows quite what to do once they find it. Let Brandon Wade, CEO and online entrepreneur, show you, in Connecting With the In Crowd, how to find that treasure and maximize its potential. Brandon always planned to make his first million by 30, and after many trials and errors reached his goal a mere six years later than planned, with the successful launch of SeekingArrangement.com, followed by SeekingMillionaire.com, and, most recently, WhatsYourPrice.com. Out of his experience comes a book that can save you time and heartache in reaching your own goals.

While a lot of advice peddlers purport to teach us how to marry money, there's more to life than just digging for gold. In Connecting with the In Crowd you'll learn how to marry wealth if that's what you want - but you'll also learn how to do business with hugely successful entrepreneurs, get a job with a famous actor or professional athlete, persuade high-rolling financiers to invest in your business or nonprofit organization, find a mentor to teach you the ropes, build a personal network worth a million, or party at the latest hot spots with other fabulous people (that's right, you're one of them!).

Technology has brought us together as equals; now we all operate on the same level playing field. Anyone, from any background, can use the Internet for personal advancement. We are already using it to create wealth and to spread that wealth around. No tool, however, works unless you know how to work it. So go ahead. Change your life.

BRANDON WADE is a leading relationship expert, author, online dating entrepreneur and founder of successful online dating websites SeekingMillionaire.com, SeekingArrangement.com and WhatsYourPrice.com. Brandon currently lives in Las Vegas, and holds a BS and an MBA degree from MIT.
